YOUR COUNTRY ASKS YOU TO HELP SAVE LIVE STOCK OF ENTIRE NORTHWEST

Drouth has deprived farmers in Northwestern Minnesota, in North Dakota, and in Montana of roughage and is forcing the sale of live stock.

These farmers must be helped to keep absolutely needed animals.

Animals sold must be saved as far as possible, for breeding purposes.

FARMERS IN SOUTHERN MINNESOTA CAN HELP IN BOTH---HOW?

I. By Saving Straw and Hay for Shipment

Oats straw will be worth $10.00 a ton for feed, and wheat straw $7.50 a ton when timothy is worth $20.00.

II. By Saving Corn Stover

III. By Putting Up Silage

IV. By Planting Fall Rye for Fall Pasture

These, fed without waste, will enable the farmers of Southern Minnesota to take feeders, especially cows and heifers, and keep them to sell in order to meet the certain demand among Northwestern farmers next year and for the big demand from Europe following the war. Already Europe is contracting for breeding stock to be delivered when the war is over.

The Railroads have been asked to make Special Freight Rates to help meet the situation and will doubtless comply
